

DAVID HAIG ALEXANDER
ENOARTS.COM

Bio

David Haig Alexander is a Washington D.C. based figurative painter and sculptor. He earned a Master's in Fine Arts from Tyler School of Art, Temple University in 1999 and a Bachelor's in Fine Arts from The School of the Art Institute of Chicago in 1997.

For 10 years Alexander worked as an Information Architect in digital marketing creating strategies for brands like Sony Pictures, Coca-Cola, and Marriott Hotels.

Alexander exhibits in major US cities including New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, and Los Angeles. While living in Los Angeles he participated in emblematic events with Cannibal Flower, Hanger 1018, and The Hive Gallery. His work is in private and corporate collections including The Nippon Steel Corporation.

Alexander mentored with several prominent American artists such as Southwest Sculptor Luis Jiménez, contemporary art icon Stanley Whitney, and Chicago Imagist Ray Yoshida.

.....

Education:

M.F.A Tyler School of Art - Temple University, Elkins Park, PA
Fine Arts – Painting, Drawing and Sculpture, 1999

B.F.A. The School of the Art Institute of Chicago, Chicago, IL
Fine Arts – Painting, Drawing and Sculpture, 1997